

S P O R T I F

FOUNDER PROFILE, WORKING DRAFT

Who is Lucy Wayne

A portrait drawn from Lucy's published interviews, and a starting point for her content. Nothing here is fixed. It is meant for Lucy to read and react to.

A working portrait, drawn from Lucy's published interviews. It is a starting point for her content strategy with Sportif, and a first draft for her to react to. Nothing here is fixed. The goal is simply to capture, in one place, who Lucy is and what she can speak on with real authority.

What we are trying to do

Sportif is your brand, and you are its greatest asset. People do not just buy a product, they buy from a person they trust. So the plan is simple. We build you as the trusted expert in your world (style and strength for real women), and Sportif becomes the natural choice your audience reaches for.

In plain terms:

- 1. You are the voice. We position you as the go to expert in your field, the voice of reason women actually listen to. Not an influencer chasing likes, an expert they trust.
- 2. We build trust first. While the launch is on hold, we use the time to grow your authority and an audience that already believes in you. When Sportif launches, it arrives to a warm room, not a cold one.
- 3. Content does the heavy lifting. We create content across a few clear topics that you own, blending your real voice with pieces we produce for you. That keeps it consistent and high quality without taking over your week.
- 4. Trust becomes sales. The goal is not just followers, it is customers. When people trust your expertise, choosing Sportif becomes the obvious next step.

In one line: we make you the expert, the expert builds the trust, and the trust drives the sales. This profile is the raw material we use to make that happen.

In one line

A Sydney fashion designer turned celebrity stylist and certified fitness trainer who has spent more than fifteen years helping women feel confident, both in what they wear and in how their body feels and moves. Her life sits at one rare intersection: style and strength, together.

The credibility

- Fashion. A degree in Design with a Fashion focus (Whitehouse Institute of Design), with textiles studied from school. More than fifteen years in the industry, including Wheels and Dollbaby and Country Road, where she found her love of styling. Founder of her own styling house.
- High profile. Has styled Katy Perry and Nicole Sealey (Real Housewives of Cheshire), and worked on The Great Gatsby with Baz Luhrmann's wardrobe team.
- Fitness. A certified group and personal trainer, and a devoted reformer Pilates practitioner of about ten years. A dancer from a young age, and someone who walks everywhere.
- Founder. Launching Sportif, her fitness accessories brand, and signed with a Los Angeles PR agency to grow internationally.

What she can teach (her expertise pillars)

1. Styling for confidence. Executive and CEO wardrobes, bridal, formal, decluttering, and fit.
2. Inclusive styling. She deliberately champions women size 14 and up, and women in transformation (post weight loss, post surgery). In her words, "I don't only style women that are a size 8."
3. Strength and movement. Reformer Pilates, personal training, and everyday active living.
4. Holistic wellness. Nutrition, mindfulness, gratitude, and community.
5. Design insight. A real understanding of fabric, cut, and value.

What she believes

- "Confidence is not about perfection but about feeling good and showing up as oneself."
- "While confidence comes from within, the right outfit can illuminate it."
- Every woman should feel "seen, valued, and beautifully represented."
- Community matters. She credits her running and training communities, and lives by the line "Get up, Lace up, Turn Up."

Her voice and character

Disciplined, warm, practical, and purpose driven. She thinks in habits and systems (prepare the night before, always be early, dress presentable because it shows you value yourself and your work, and carry a notebook at all times). She is resilient, having built two careers at once, and she has no intention of slowing down, "always seeking new ways to create, inspire, and lead."

Why she is different

Most fitness founders can only speak to fitness. Most stylists can only speak to clothes. Lucy credibly owns both, and she points that authority at real women, not just a size 8 ideal. That fusion of style and strength, delivered with an inclusive and genuine voice, is a lane almost nobody else owns.

Lucy Wayne content library

Taglines, quotes, and mantras to draw from when creating Sportif content. Voice rules apply: no em dashes and no en dashes, warm and empowering, never glam or hype.

Three clearly separated sets below:

1. Taglines (brand and personal lines we can use freely).
2. In Lucy's own words (real quotes from her published interviews, safe to attribute to her).
3. Mantras and content lines (new lines written in Lucy's spirit, DRAFT, for her to approve before we attribute anything to her).

1. Taglines

Short lines for graphics, captions, hero overlays, and bio.

- Strength you can wear.
- Where strength meets style.
- Strong body, styled confidence.
- Feel good, then show up as you.
- Look good because you feel strong.
- Move well, dress well, live well.
- Sculpt. Style. Show up.
- Built for every body.
- Real women, real strength, real style.
- Strength is the best thing you can wear.
- Confidence you can feel, style you can see.
- Find your resistance. (product line for the bands)
- Get up, lace up, show up. (a nod to her running community)
- The strong, styled woman.

2. In Lucy's own words

Real quotes from Lucy's published interviews. These are safe to use and attribute to her.

"Confidence is not about perfection but about feeling good and showing up as oneself."

"While confidence comes from within, the right outfit can illuminate it."

"I don't only style women that are a size 8."

She wants every woman to feel "seen, valued, and beautifully represented."

"Being part of a supportive community is incredibly fulfilling."

On staying active: "I've always walked everywhere since I don't drive, and about ten years ago I started reformer Pilates."

On what drives her: "Seeing my vision come to life and making a difference in people's lives."

Her practical mindset, in her words:

- "Prepare the night before: lay out your clothes, have your bag ready."
- "Always be early."
- "Dress presentable. It demonstrates that you value both yourself and your work."

Community motto she lives by: "Get up, Lace up, Turn Up."

3. Mantras and content lines (DRAFT, for Lucy's approval)

New lines written in Lucy's spirit for captions and graphics. These are NOT yet her words. Do not attribute them to Lucy until she has read and approved them.

- Strong is not a size. It is a feeling.
- Strength is a form of self respect.
- Confidence is a habit, and so is showing up.
- The right resistance builds the strongest you.
- Dressing well is how you tell the world you value yourself.
- Every woman deserves to feel at home in her body and her wardrobe.
- Discipline is quiet. Sometimes it is just laying your clothes out the night before.
- Move for your mind as much as your body.
- Progress, not perfection.
- You do not have to earn rest, but movement is a gift you can give yourself.

Working draft prepared for Lucy Wayne. Taglines and the marked draft lines are for approval before use.