

A simple plan to launch

The shape of the runway. We will fine-tune it together, but here is how the months ahead lay out.

WHERE WE COME IN (CONTENT IS OUR STRENGTH)

This is the part we do best. We will art-direct your shoots, create the warm, colourful Sportif imagery and product shots (like the pattern concepts), and produce your Reels, TikTok and launch visuals, plus packaging and the wholesale line sheet. You focus on product and community; we make it look unmistakably Sportif.

FIRST, TOGETHER (THIS MONTH)

Confirm the brand (the brand kit), get your supplier's answer on the custom colours and a patterned or woven-texture band, and decide which product leads the launch. These three quick calls set everything else up.

JUNE TO JULY · BUILD

Establish the look and start the audience

- Start posting on Instagram Reels, building the warm, colourful Sportif look.
- Begin collecting emails (a simple early-access list).
- Capture content from your February shoot and the upcoming pilates-instructor shoot.

JULY TO AUGUST · GROW

Double down and build toward launch

- Lean into whatever content is working, and add TikTok.
- Team up with a handful of pilates and lifestyle creators.
- Grow toward 10,000 followers, and lock the launch event and local press.

SEPTEMBER · LAUNCH

Go live

- The Double Bay or Bondi launch event, with local press invited.
- The drop of the first 500 bands.
- A coordinated email and paid push around the launch.

A NOTE ON CHANNELS

From your answers and the research, our suggestion is to start on Instagram Reels (where your customer already is), add TikTok once we can see what is working, and run email from day one. Whether to launch across everything at once or prove one channel first is one of the things we would love to decide together.

NEXT STEP

This is the high-level shape. Once we lock the few decisions above together, we will build you a detailed, week-by-week execution plan: a content calendar, the shoot and creator schedule, the launch-week run sheet and the budget mapped out.

A lean-to-mid budget suits a 500-unit first run; we will map the actual numbers together once the hero product and channel approach are settled.
